LEAD ON PURPOSE

Professional Development for Powerful Leaders

Commences Feb 2019

Based on international academic studies, Australian executive market research and global trends, this programme provides the resources, support and personal and professional development that strengthens the leadership capacity of individuals and their organisations.

Visionary companies know that long-term success requires executives who can build and secure a competitive edge.

This curriculum is designed to facilitate a broader set of skills and attributes for leadership in times of rapid change and is tailored to harness the strengths of female leaders.

Designed for ASX listed companies, government organisations, social enterprises and private businesses who seek high performance, increased engagement, focused outcomes, thought-leadership and healthy, happy teams.

This revolutionary programme is a collaborative initiative of Business Women Australia and the Global Institute of Training and Presenting (GITP).

Programme Lead Facilitator: - Paula Smith is the CEO of GITP, a leadership and business consultant, coach, author, master trainer, the leading expert in Presentation Intelligence®. Editor of IMPACT workforce development magazine and a Professional Speaker CSP (Certified Speaking Professional) Paula's rich professional experience, solid academic qualifications and her dynamic and infectious personality makes her the perfect choice to lead this innovative professional development journey. Paula will be joined by an impressive lineup of experts and industry leaders for each session.
